Venetia Is Back Amongst The Winners Plus Two Trainers Also Showing Form - By High Roller Racing

In December, January and February the yard of Venetia Williams saddled only eleven winners which would be deeply disappointing to one of my trainers when I had racehorses in training. She would work harder to improve the situation and then things turned of late... a double at Ludlow with a double at Wincanton followed by a treble at local track Hereford. Seven winners in two days, five ridden by Charlie Deutch and two by amateur rider Hugh Nugent. This is now a yard to watch closely and Venetia has three entries in the Scottish National next Saturday including Yala Enki who won the Haydock National trial. The yard seems to hold chances throughout the coming week with Entries for horses such as Achille, Cepage, Pressurize plus 14 other entries from 15th to 22nd April. Watch this yard very closely and it could pay dividends.

Simon Crisford, the former Godolphin manager, is in good form on the all weather but as I write has not had a turf runner so far probably because of the ground conditions. Simon has had only one winner so far in the first two weeks of April from ten runners but six of these have finished second... this shows yard still in good form. Global Conqueror or Regal Director could be the first Turf runners for the yard this season with entries at Windsor and Newmarket... check if they run. Shrewd Approach is being touted as a winner at either Beverley or Newcastle this coming week. Watch out for Simon Crisfords entries and runners.

Lucinda Russell always seems to have her horses in good form at the time the Scottish Grand National Meeting takes place at Ayr and won it with One For Arthur but this star of the stable is sidelined at the moment with injury. Lucinda has hit a good spell of form again this April with four winners from last nine runners as I write. With Ayr on the horizon look our for this yard especially Big River who has multiple entries. Jump For Dough and Behindthelines could help boost our bank balances. Lucinda is a Lady in form and we must pay attention to her entries and runners.

High Roller Racing, my service, is in decent form and looking forwards to a profitable week. Join us FREE... paying absolutely nothing... get our tips and pay £10 if the tip wins... maximum of one tip per day. This is a FAIR SERVICE but with a GOOD STRIKE RATE!

Southampton Big Outsiders To Win The FA Cup

The spring sporting season continues with the semi-finals of the FA Cup at the weekend. The last four matches are now played at Wembley which you can look at in two ways. It gives more teams and fans an opportunity to visit the National Stadium of devalues the final. The FA Cup is now dominated by the superpowers who regularly play in big matches in major stadiums. The average finishing position in the Premier League of the winners is fourth and seventh for the runners up. Southampton are the only team left in the competition below seventh place and they are 14/1 with Ladbrokes to win the FA Cup.

It's the time of year in which there are major races over jumps and on the Flat. No sooner has the Grand National meeting at Aintree taken place then it's the Craven meeting at Newmarket. The Scottish Grand National is run at Ayr on Saturday but there are three days of top class racing on the level at HQ. There are major trials for the first two Classics of the season. Clemmie has been the winter favourite for the 1,000 Guineas but will probably miss the race after suffering a training setback. VICENTE is 12/1 with William Hill to win the Scottish National for the third time.

In tennis it's the start of the European clay court season which culminates in the French Open in Paris. The sport is played on a number of surfaces and players are more suited to one than another. Rafael Nadal has won each of the four Grand Slam tournaments but has won the French Open ten times which is a record for any winner of a major. In fact no player has ever won any type of tournament 11 times and NADAL has won in Monte Carlo, Barcelona and at the French Open on 10 occasions. He is 4/6 with Betfair to win the Monte Carlo Masters.
