Today's Sports Betting Preview - By Rick Elliott

Stradivarius Will Be In Tune At Goodwood Today

The Qatar Goodwood Festival starts today and there should be a week of glorious racing. The meeting formerly known as Glorious Goodwood has been rebranded and like it or not the state of Qatar has boosted prize money and hence the quality of the fields. Goodwood's main meeting will never be Royal Ascot but it has its place in the racing calendar.

The Gold Cup is the most prestigious race at the Royal meeting and the Goodwood Cup is its equivalent this week. Several runners today (3.35pm) contested the Group 1 race at Ascot. There is no point ignoring the obvious and STRADIVARIUS can complete the double and that result can be backed at 8/13 with Ladbrokes.

The two other Group races on the card are more open and Stradivarius is the banker of the week. The horse is the best stayer in Britain and Ireland and on ratings and form will be hard to beat. The Qatar Vintage Stakes at 2.25pm is a seven furlong contest for colts, geldings and fillies but there are no female horses in the field. DUNKERRON has shown improvement over four starts and with more progression expected today the horse is the one to back at 15/2 with William Hill.

The Lennox Stakes (3pm) is run over the same distance but the age range is three-year-olds and elder. Horses from the current Classic generation receive seven pounds and the only runner aged three can take advantage of that concession. TIP TWO WIN performed better than his odds suggested when finishing second in the 2,000 Guineas over one mile at Newmarket in May. The youngest horse in the race can prevail at 9/2 with Betfair.

It's the second of the seven day Galway Races meeting which generates huge betting turnover. The event combines decent action on the Flat and over jumps with some ordinary fare. Punters don't seem to care about the quality but bet in any race like its going out of fashion. INSCRIBE can win the richest race of the day (7.40pm), a handicap over about one mile, and the horse is 9/2 with Paddy Power to oblige.

High Roller Six Winners From Seven Selections And Very Hot Trainers - By High Roller Racing

In the week just gone High Roller has 6 winners from 7 selections with the very last selection beaten a nose. All the winners were Heavily backed and these are HOT tips... who said horses cannot talk? Will tell you more later.

Well what a feast awaits us this week! Galway Festival for a whole week and Glorious Goodwood. Two fantastic meeting and plenty of great horses, jockeys, trainers and high profile owners on view. But who is in form? Who is running into form for these meetings? Read on and let's see if we can put you in the right direction as we have been doing. Two weeks ago we said follow Haggas and Dr Newland... Haggas produced TEN WINNERS and Dr Newland FIVE WINNERS totalling 15 Winners from this article alone.

Who is coming hot? Answer CLIVE COX... former jockey and now trainer. Clive knows the magic formula of getting a horse ready! Clive's las eight runners have produced four winners and he has plenty of chances at Glorious Goodwood. On the opening day Cloak And Dagger represents Clive in a six furlongs maiden with a great chance. On Wednesday he has a nice entry with Welcoming in another maiden the horse narrowly beaten at Chepstow on debut. On Thursday Kick On Kick On represents Clive in a five furlongs handicap and has been penalised 5lbs by the handicapper but it looks a decent opportunity for the horse. So consider Clive Cox throughout the meeting. Another big plus is Adam Kirby usually rides for Clive and he indeed is a very positive capable strong jockey. "Tis Marvellous could go close for Cox in the Stewards Cup given a clear run.

David Simcock is in decent form and his stats show his yards form is better than ever before at this time of year. This yard got Breton Rock to win last years Lennox Stakes at this meeting returning 50/1. Can we rule him out this year? Well I would say not after his great run last year the horse obviously likes the course so although he may not win it's folly just to ignore him completely. Lightning Spear should run well in the Sussex Stakes for the yard and is well worth consideration. Miss Latin is well handicapped and could run very well off her rating of 78. White Chocolate holds three entries at Goodwood and she seemed unlucky at Ascot recently so she may run in the Lily Langtry and we should take note of her in our calculations.

Our third trainer is Saeed Bin Suroor who always seems in form. Saeed is one of the Godolphin Trainers and only trains horses in their Royal Blue colours. I never like opposing Godolphin horses they have that 'aura' in their presence on the course. Saeed has saddles 17 winners in July as I write and 65 per cent of his horses have been running to form. Saeed tends to improve horses with age and one that fits the bill here is Natural Scenery is the long distance handicap on Wednesday. Racing Country could be Saeeds best chance at Goodwood as the horse is progressive having won his last two starts and should be capable of handling a 6lb rise in the weights. Promising Run ran well in a Listed race at Pontefract and at a big price could run very well in the Nassau Stakes. Always respect Saeeds horses and entry's.

So if you are a High Roller regular you had six winners from seven selections last week with some monumental gambles amongst them. If you go to Betfan Proofing and find High Roller Racing you can see the lists of winners... I am a man in TOP FORM... if I was a jockey or trainer you would all back by tips... try the service. It costs £10 for every winner and nothing if we get an odd loser. Maximum one tip per day. We always tell our clients 'take the price asap' the prices always go.
