Today's Sports Betting Preview - By Rick Elliott

Palace Could Be Up For The Cup

Only two teams from the Premier League top six will be in the quarter-finals of the FA Cup. Liverpool, Tottenham and Arsenal are already out and Chelsea will welcome Manchester United to Stamford Bridge in the fifth round. The cream has nearly always risen to the top in the latter stages of the Cup during the Premier League era. One of the superpowers runs around Wembley with the trophy in May (except Wigan in 2013) but this season could be different. If there is to be a shock there are worse bets than CRYSTAL PALACE to win the FA Cup at with 12/1 with bet365.

Liverpool are playing Leicester at home in the Premier League tomorrow night. On current form they are home bankers and three points look assured. That potential outcome means Manchester City cannot afford to drop points at Newcastle tonight. They are four points behind Liverpool which is a manageable gap but if it increases winning the league again becomes more difficult. LIVERPOOL are currently 4/6 with bet365 to be the champions of England for the first time in 29 years. This could finally be the year in which they are top dogs again.

Newcastle have already lost eight home fixtures in the Premier League this season and not picked up a single point in eight meetings with top six opponents. Goal difference could be crucial in Newcastle's battle against relegation so keeping the score down tonight could be the objective rather than avoiding defeat. Since conceding against Liverpool City have scored 28 goals without reply. In the corresponding fixture last season which City won one-nil Newcastle had just 22% of the possession. Most bases are covered by MANCHESTER CITY TO WIN TO NIL at 4/5.

The richest race of the day in Britain and Ireland is the novice chase over two miles at Down Royal (1.10). Monatomic has the ratings to prevail but has not won a chase in five starts. Stoneford lost ground at the fences in his last race and on form D'Bru Na Boinne has something to find. PEACOCKS SECRET is in good form and can defy a seven pounds rise in the weights for a win 16 days ago. The horse is the nap of the day at 15/8 with Paddy Power.

I Want You To Join My Winning High Roller Race Club

- By High Roller Racing

I normally write articles about Horse Racing but I thought I would give that a break for one week and tell you more about me the captain of the High Roller Racing Club.

Well my name is Lawrence and I have nearly 50 years experience in horse racing. I have been involved with horses and racing staff over that time. I was an owner for many years but have now ceased being an owner back in 2009. Why did I stop being an owner you ask? Well the horse racing authorities made life so awkward for owners with little rules for us smaller owners and the bigger owners getting away with things we were reprimanded for plus my horses were handicappers and the prize money reductions plus increased training bills made things totally uneconomic.

I have kept in touch with a big percentage of trainers, owners, racing staff and other contacts. I try to make their business my informative ears! I do get to know quite a lot of things going on in racing before things are written in the press and newspapers.

High Roller Racing Club like all services has very good spells which need to be followed by its members. In the last week, as I write, we have had FOUR WINNERS, TWO SECONDS and ONE NON-RUNNER.

Winners were URBANIST at 7/2, STAR ASCENDING won at 5/1, AT YOUR SERVICE won at 11/2 and PAISLEY PARK won at 5/1.

Over this week we are talking about if you had backed all the horses to a £100 per point recommended you would have won £8,450 or to a £50 per point stake winnings were £4,225 or £10 per point stake £845. I think that the results speak highly for High Roller Racing Club members.

By the way i back every horse i tip myself!

This HIGH ROLLER is totally FREE to join. Every time I have a tip then you are advised by BetFan the tip is available... you then decide if you want to be WITH THE TIP or NOT.. nobody forces you to take the tip BUT if IT WINS we ask you to pay £10... Now look at the winnings for the last week. if you took all six bets you would pay £10 each for the four winners so you PAID a TOTAL of £40 TO WIN up to £8,450! So bearing that in mind it's a non-brainer.

Might I say don't come joining us thinking every bet wins... it doesn't. Usually our strike rate is in the region of 50 per cent winners to runners.

You need to follow my team at HIGH ROLLER for an extended run of at least three months to give us a fair trial.

As I am writing the last three months have resulted in a profit of 106.22 points overall. I think that's a very good reason why you should join a service that will show you the way to PROFIT from HORSE RACING. Whatever you do for work this Club gives you a second income without having to take on part time work.

To join me, Lawrence and the High Roller Team follow the link below the article. Assuring you of our very best tips and service.
