ADVANCE RATINGS - FREE TRIAL DAY 4 of 7.

Yesterday was a difficult day with only All Weather racing (and lots of handicaps, to boot) on offer but Advance Ratings managed to get 6 winners from the 24 races.

This equates to a strike rate of 25%. To ISP, 16.89 points were returned to 24 points staked. This equates to a POI (profit on investment/stakes) of -29.625%. To BSP, 17.81 points (after a 5% commission was deducted) were returned to 24 points staked. This equates to a POI (profit on investment/stakes) of -25.791%.

13 of yesterday's 24 races were won by a top three rated horse.

Today looks rather exciting for the ratings. Even though Newcastle and Warwick have been abandoned.

Today's Sports Betting Preview - By Rick Elliott

Michael Van Gerwen has been nominated for the BBC Sports Personality of the Year Award and is the best darts player in the world. Phil Taylor used to be but is retiring from the game after the PDC World Championship. Van Gerwen often averages over 100 in matches and he looks unbeatable in this tournament. Darts will never be an Olympic sport but it makes tremendous viewing which can be enhanced by backing VAN GERWEN to be the PDC world champion at 8/11 with Ladbrokes.

There is a second round FA Cup reply tonight which brings together Hereford and Fleetwood. This is a new version of the Hereford FC that beat Newcastle in the Cup all those years ago in a match that launched the career of John Motson. The iconic commentator has announced his retirement and could be honoured with the Lifetime Achievement award at the Sports Personality show. Here have not lost in 12 matches but FLEETWOOD are several levels ahead so must be backed at 4/6 with William Hill to win this match.

The Peterborough Chase is a Grade 2 contest that has been rescheduled at Taunton today (2.45pm). Top Notch is proven at the highest level and was impressive when winning at Ascot just 19 days ago. The horse was just below the very best as a hurdler and was second in a novice chase at the Cheltenham Festival. TOP NOTCH is the pick on past and recent form so must be backed at 2/5 with Betfair. Today's three selections are odds-on but the treble pays over 3/1.

There May Be Trouble Ahead - By Eddie Lloyd

Let's face the music and dance...

It's that time of year when we're faced with abandonments, a LOT of non-runners and rule 4's a plenty! There have been two meetings cancelled today and we even saw the All-Weather abandoned earlier this week. I spent an hour analysing a race on Monday at Fontwell only to be up against five non-runners by mid-morning. It's a real pain and sometimes it's almost worth packing in and waiting for the spring!

As punters, we can be up against it at this time of year. We start the jumps and All-Weather season in October/November with horses running fresh. If that's not a challenge, a month later we're then faced with fields being cut in half and meetings getting cancelled.

However, despite all of this, we can, with a little determination, find some winning angles. I always start my analysis the night before but at this time of the year, I wait until the morning. This generally allows for non-runners to be declared, conditions to be confirmed and the markets to react to all of this.

Going through all of the form, we need to be looking for horses that have performed well in smaller fields and on the temperamental going. I also tend to focus on the top end of the market and favour horses that are being punted on. I'd usually avoid this and look for value at the bottom of the market, but at this time of year, we need to be relying on weight of money.

Relying on tipsters to do the hard work for you is always the way and even I look at the top performing tipsters, at this time of the year.

You Can See Our Top Performers Here

Looking at that chart, you can then watch this video I did last month, showing you how to determine if a tipster is right for you.

So, there may be trouble ahead with more abandonments and non-runners but to quote the legendary Nat King Cole "But while there's top performing tipsters and Betfan and love and romance, Let's face the music and dance." Not quite but you get the idea!!

There are three qualifiers for the Turbo Winning System today...

15:15 Taunton - Dream Bolt

19:15 Chelmsford - Pactolus

19:45 Chelmsford - Union Rose
