Tuesday's Horses In Focus - By Unity Racing Investments

So much can happen in a week and we have really turned our month around. Another double figure winner yesterday as MOKAATIL got there by a nose at a sweet SP of 10/1 That gave us a tidy profit for the day!

Other winners include KYLLUKEY at 16/1 advised, BORN SURVIVOR at 4/1 and CASEMENT at 10/1. It has seen us go from around 26 points down to around 8 points down. That's made a huge difference and yet we could have been in profit had 12/1 shot CHAMPAGNE CHAMP not been nuted on the line. Still much more positive and for sure we are aiming for a nice return this month.

Free Tip - Wolverhampton 8-15 Handicap (Class 6) 10f

FINAL ATTACK 11/1 was well punted last race and the vibe from the stable was that this horse was at peak fitness and ready to win. The race didn't pan out well and left the horse poorly placed. Once his chance was gone he was left to come home at his own pace. He should be more competitive here and represents a strong chance and 11/1 looks a great price!

United Can Score At The Nou Camp But To No Avail

Manchester United are big outsiders to qualify for the semi-finals of the Champions League before their match against Barcelona at the Nou Camp. However, they were even less likely to win the final at the same ground trailing Bayern Munich by one goal in the last minute of the final in the 1998/99 season. Teddy Sheringham and Ole Gunnar Solskjaer then scored to clinch the trophy that completed a treble that is still unique. Barcelona have not lost in 30 Champions League ties at home and MANCHESTER UNITED are 9/1 with bet365 to progress to the last four.

Ironically Bayern Munich are the last team to win a European fixture away to Barcelona but that match took place in 2013. Barcelona had 67% of the possession at Old Trafford last week and the home team did not have one shot on target. Barca have a full strength squad and that means Lionel Messi plays. He has scored 26 goals in 23 matches and rarely fails to register in the big matches. United must score at some stage and with a bit of fortune can find the net but Barcelona always score at home. Therefore the best bet is BOTH TEAMS TO SCORE at 8/11 with Coral.

Ajax caused a massive upset by knocking Real Madrid out of the Champions League in the last round. They lost the first leg 2-1 in Amsterdam but beat the Spanish giants 4-1 in the Bernabeu. Ajax are at Juventus in the second leg of their quarter-final tie in which the first match in Holland ended one-all. The visitors have lost just one of nine fixtures in the Champions League this season and can get the job done against Juventus. The Italian champions are not at their best just now which means AJAX TO QUALIFY is a decent bet at 9/4 with bet365.

It's the first day of the Craven meeting at Newmarket and there are three races on ITV4. The Nell Gwyn Stakes over seven furlongs at 3.35 is a major trial for the 1,000 Guineas, the first fillies' Classic of the season. Main Edition on paper has the best form but the horse is exposed after six races as a juvenile. QABALA won her only start over the course and distance in September and is the bet at 15/2 with Coral.

Who Is JEAN CLAUDE ROUGET? - By High Roller Racing

Who is this I hear you say? This man is one of the Aga Khan's trainers who is another French Genius alongside the household names of Andre Fabre and Alain Du Roy Dupres.

Jean Claude as I will call him in this article along with Aidan O'Brien will be dominating the Group1 fillies races this season, as per usual! Aidan is the main man in Great Britain, so what I say is look at the results and you will see Jean Claude leads the way in France. So who is this guy you all ask?

Let me explain...

Jean Claude Rouget was born in 1953 and at the age of 25 took out a trainers licence based in Pau. In his early years Jean Claude was a dual purpose trainer which means he trained flat horses and national hunt horses. Like in all fairy stories he trained a winner with his first runner and gradually became a dominant force in the southwest of France.

From 1993 Jean Claude decided to concentrate solely on Flat horses in an effort to rise up the rankings aiming to be the best around. This was not as easy as it sounds though because the top trainers had the facilities and were based in and around Chantilly.

Very quickly Jean Claude set a record which still stands of 242 winners in a season and won Group1 races courtesy of a horse called Millkom who won six times in the southwest before taking Group1 honours in the Prix Jean Prat and Grand Prix de Paris. Millkom lost in the Arc but bounced back to win the Group1 Man O'War Stakes. Jean Claude was moving up the ladder... very quickly.

As the years progressed Jean Claude was leading winner trainer in France and by the turn of the century the sky was his limit as Group race winners were coming along on a very regular basis. Then in 2007 Literato won the Champion Stakes at Newmarket as Jean Claude made his mark in Great Britain. That same year saw the Aga Khan starting relations with this progressive trainer to add him to their list of trainers was indeed recognition.

By 2010 Jean Claude had trained 5,000 winners... what a great achievement? Success sometimes interrupted by disaster such as when Valyra was tragically killed in an accident. She was a superb filly destined for the very top. Jean Claude continues to train winners and bounced back with Ervedya in 2015 to win three Group1 races including the Coronation Stakes.

It's obvious to us all by now this man, Jean Claude Rouget, is a genius who is heading towards 6,000 winners and any horses he runs must be feared. Jean Claude is heading towards 'Legend' status amongst the great trainers. Any man who gives Aidan O'Brien a challenge must indeed be pretty good. Ignore these trainers at your peril.

High Roller Racing is in pretty decent form so far, as I write, showing a profit of over 18 points in April to date. I wanted more of you to see what I can do for you so I got BetFan to offer you all seven days on my service for just £2.00 and a lot of you did that and are now in profit.
