A Point At Tottenham Would Be Huge For Brighton

Brighton visit Tottenham's new stadium in the Premier League tonight and the fixture has significance at both ends of the table. Tottenham are in the last four of the Champions League but qualifying for the competition next season has not been assured by their finishing position. A poor run of form has dragged Brighton into a scrap with Cardiff to avoid relegation. A point against Tottenham would help them stay up and BRIGHTON are currently 5/1 with bet365 to fall into the Championship.

The race for third and fourth place is ongoing and only three points separate Tottenham in third place and Manchester United in sixth. Chelsea and Arsenal are sandwiched between those two clubs. Tottenham can consolidate their position by beating Brighton. The visitors have not scored in their last six matches while Tottenham have not conceded in three fixtures at the new White Hart Lane. The logical bet is TOTTENHAM TO WIN TO NIL at 19/20 with Ladbrokes.

It's day four of the snooker World Championship in Sheffield. On form and history there is only one player to back. Ronnie O'Sullivan continues to break records and has now won most major titles of any player in the history of the sport. Even by his standards the Rocket has had an exceptional season during which he has recorded a 1,000th century break in competition. There's no need to complicate the issue so back RONNIE O'SULLIVAN at 5/2 with bet365 to win a sixth world title.

It's the final day of the Irish Grand National meeting at Fairyhouse and there is €275,000 in prize money up for grabs. The richest race of the fixture is the handicap hurdle over two miles at 4.40. Jezki won the Champion Hurdle in 2014 and is competitive off the current mark. Ivanovich Gorbatov is finally showing the form that made the horse a leading juvenile three seasons ago. However, on County Hurdle form at Cheltenham COUNTISTER is the horse to back at 4/1 with Ladbrokes.

Don't Forget The Draw On The Flat - By High Roller Racing

Do not forget on the Flat to take into account the draw when making your selections. The draw is vital to your selections chances of winning a race. You can have the best horse in the race but will not win because they cannot overcome their poor draw.

Course like Thirsk in the north of the UK have a massive bias towards high numbers in sprints of five or six furlongs. Chester has a huge bias towards los draw in sprints. Ripon also has a big bias over sprints to high drawn stalls.

I have found quite a reliable source of information comes from drawbias.com. They have a comprehensive list of all courses and display the bias. In general if your selection does not have a good draw then why bet on it?

I NEVER recommend a bet on a badly drawn horse and usually a bigger price bet has more promise because of being drawn better.

Today's Free Tip Lingfield 5-55 Handicap (Class 6) 8f

Poor auld paddy at 11/1 is widely available. Connections are strong on the chance of this horse today, he has run before at the track and finished 7l 4th. The time for that race was pretty quick though. He was then tried further but didn't really get home. They knew he wouldn't but it did mean his price was inflated for this race.

That last Lingfield race came against much better horses than he runs against here and I think that form line will start to work out really well. He has a great each way shout and all will be disappointed if he doesn't make the frame as the money is down today
